

G0205 Recovery from Disaster: The Local Community Role

Revised Course Materials Now Available on the G Course Website for all State, Tribal Nation, and Territorial Training Managers

Date of Revisions:

July 2021: Revised materials include Instructor Guide, Student Manual, Reference Library, Handouts (posters), visuals, and assessments.

Course Length:

This revised course is 2 days (13 hours).

Location:

Materials are available on the EMI Field Delivery Course Materials for States, Tribal Nations, and Territories (G course) website. If you are a State, Tribal Nation, or Territorial Training Officer and need information about or access to this website, please contact FEMA-G-Courses@fema.dhs.gov.

Course Description:

The revised course provides an introduction to disaster recovery principles and includes current recovery practices and policies. Activities are included in the course to support engaged and participatory learning. A variety of resources for recovery planning are provided and taught in the course, including a FEMA online Community Recovery Management Toolkit (CRMT) and a resource section associated with the Pre-Disaster Recovery Planning Guide for Local Governments (PDRPG-L) that contains links to model plans, templates, tools, lessons learned, best practices, and a range of supplemental reference materials and related pre-disaster planning and disaster recovery resources.

Course Objectives:

After completing this course, participants will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an increased knowledge of local government responsibilities and challenges associated with disaster recovery.
2. Explain the need to develop, revise, and/or implement a pre-disaster recovery plan.
3. Apply an increased understanding of recent “lessons learned” in disaster recovery at the local level.

Prerequisites:

IS-2900.a: National Disaster Recovery Framework (NDRF) Overview is a required prerequisite, and IS 100.c: Introduction to the Incident Command System is a recommended prerequisite.

Target Audience:

The target audience for this course includes the following local and/or Tribal government positions and allied professionals:

- Local elected officials
- Tribal Leaders and Council Members
- City/County/Tribal Managers/Staff
- City/County/Tribal Planners/Staff
- Regional Planning Commissions
- Economic Development Districts
- Finance Directors/Assessors
- Emergency Managers/Staff
- Public Works Directors/Staff

- Building Inspectors/Staff
- Floodplain Managers/Staff
- Health Care Administrators or Planners
- Public Information Officers
- Housing Directors or Planners/Staff
- Voluntary Agency Coordinators or Unmet Needs Committee Coordinators
- Business Organization Representatives
- Administrative Directors/Managers
- State Recovery Staff and Partners (so they can be active in recovery at the local level)

Familiarization Webinars:

To quickly bring Training Managers for Regions, States, Tribal Nations, and Territories up to speed on the revisions to the materials as well as to share tips and tricks for delivering the materials, EMI has scheduled three Zoom sessions at the following times:

- Thursday, August 19, from 9 a.m.–12 p.m. EST
- Wednesday, September 8, from 1–4 p.m. EST
- Tuesday, September 14, from 4–7 p.m. EST

Please let us know which session would best fit your schedule at FEMA-EMI-RandR@fema.dhs.gov and we will send you the Zoom details.

For Further Information:

For questions about the EMI Field Delivery Course Materials for States, Tribal Nations, and Territories (G course) website, please contact FEMA-G-Courses@fema.dhs.gov.

For questions about the course content or materials, please contact fema-emi-RandR@fema.dhs.gov.

TRAINING BULLETIN

