

For immediate release: Braille Literacy Grant Application Announcement

Friends of the North Carolina Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped

Braille Literacy Grant

The Friends of the NC Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped seek to award two separate grants, up to $1,000, to address braille literacy among children and adults in North Carolina. Proposals are expected to address the needs of children and/or adults who are visually impaired in braille literacy efforts such as, but not limited to, training, services, education, and outreach. The Braille Literacy Grant has been established to fill a gap in funding for braille training, programs, and services. Financial need is a priority.

The individual and organization grant applications are available online and as print download documents to be submitted by mail. The application deadline for proposals submitted online or by mail is April 1. The Braille Literacy grant applications, along with additional information, can be found at:
