

The climate of change: understanding the importance of work around race, equality and diversity in schools

Thursday 24 June 2021, 9.00am – 3.45pm
EMA Virtual Seminar

Overview

- Reflect on the impact of the Black Lives Matter campaign, the increased focus on race and racism and the implications for schools
- Identify opportunities for developing a diverse and inclusive curriculum
- Explore the importance of language in carrying out work around diversity, inclusion, and anti-racism
- Explore local initiatives to promote diversity and inclusion

Speakers

- Hannah Wilson, co-founder of #DiverseEd and Director of Diverse Educators
Vision and Values: Embedding diversity, equity and inclusion in your school's culture and classroom teaching
- Bennie Kara, Deputy Headteacher, co-founder of #DiverseEd and author of A Little Guide for Teachers: Diversity in Schools
Colouring in Your Curriculum: How to diversify your units of work, what you teach and how you teach it
- Liz Agbettoh, School Effectiveness Officer, Blackburn Diocesan Board of Education and Dr Pauline Lyseight-jones, Affiliated Researcher to The Open University
Honest conversations about race and the importance of language
- Serdar Ferit, Co-CEO and Co-Founder at Lyfta
Weaving diversity, equity and inclusion into the curriculum through immersive human stories
- Shammi Rahman, Head of Faculty Humanities, Denbigh School, Milton Keynes
Addressing difficult conversations: supporting young people in discussing sensitive topics

LA maintained primary schools and CCSSC schools: No charge All other schools: £80

TO BOOK or visit

<https://mkpdc.org.uk/Event/140354> or email ema@milton-keynes.gov.uk

