Abstract: The National Emission Standards for Hazardous Air Pollutants (NESHAP) for Stationary Reciprocating Internal Combustion Engines (40 CFR part 63, subpart ZZZZ) apply to owners and operators of a stationary reciprocating internal combustion engines (RICE) at either a major or area source of hazardous air pollutant (HAP) emissions, except if the stationary RICE is being tested at a stationary RICE test cell/stand. A stationary RICE is any internal combustion engine which uses reciprocating motion to convert heat energy into mechanical work and which is not mobile. New facilities include those that commenced construction, modification or reconstruction after the date of proposal. This information is being collected to assure compliance with 40 CFR part 63, subpart ZZZZ.

In general, all NESHAP standards require initial notifications, performance tests, and periodic reports by the owners/operators of the affected facilities. They are also required to maintain records of the occurrence and duration of any startup, shutdown, or malfunction in the operation of an affected facility, or any period during which the monitoring system is inoperative. These notifications, reports, and records are essential in determining compliance, and are required of all affected facilities subject to NESHAP.

Form Numbers: None.

Respondents/affected entities:

Owners or operators of stationary reciprocating internal combustion engines (RICE).

Respondent's obligation to respond:

Mandatory (40 CFR part 63, subpart ZZZZ).

Estimated number of respondents: 910,177 (total).

Frequency of response: Initially, quarterly, semiannually, and annually.

Total estimated burden: 3,620,000 hours (per year). Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.3(b).

Total estimated cost: $461,000,000 (per year), which includes $41,700,000 in annualized capital/startup and/or operation & maintenance costs.

Changes in the Estimates: There is an adjustment increase in the total estimated burden as currently identified in the OMB Inventory of Approved Burdens. The increase in burden from the most recently approved ICR is due to an increase in the number of respondents. EPA estimates a linear growth in the industry sector with an additional of 1,284 new sources per year that become subject to the NESHAP, plus there is another 755,430 respondents which are responsible for only recordkeeping requirements. The capital/startup and operation and maintenance (O&M) costs have increased compared with the costs in the previous ICR due to an increase in the number of existing sources operating portable CO monitors.

Director, Regulatory Support Division.

Abstract: This ICR describes the cost and burden associated with 40 CFR 121, the regulations that implement Clean Water Act (CWA) section 401. Under section 401, a federal agency may not issue a permit or license that may result in any discharge into waters of the United States unless the certifying authority where the discharge would originate issues a section 401 water quality certification verifying that the discharge will comply with certain water quality requirements or waives the certification requirement. CWA section 401 requires project proponents to submit project specific information to certifying authorities. Certifying authorities may act on project specific information by either granting, granting with conditions, denying, or waiving section 401 certification. CWA section 401 requires certifying authorities to submit information to the relevant federal licensing or permitting agency to indicate the action taken on a request for certification. If the certifying authority fails or refuses to act on a request for certification, within a reasonable period of time (which shall not exceed one year) after receipt of such request, the certification requirements of this subsection shall be waived with respect to such Federal application. The EPA is also responsible for providing notification to certain neighboring or downstream states and tribes affected by a discharge from a federally licensed or permitted project under section 401(a)(2). Information collected directly collected by the EPA under section 401 in support of the section 402 permit program is already captured under an existing ICR (OMB Control Number 2040-0004, EPA ICR Number 0229.23) and therefore is not included in this analysis.

Form Numbers: None.

Respondents/affected entities:

Applicants (Project Proponents) for certain federal licenses and permits; Certifying Authorities including states, territories, and authorized tribes.

Respondent's obligation to respond: Project Proponents: Required to obtain or retain a benefit (33 U.S.C. 1341). Certifying Authorities: Not mandatory.

Estimated number of respondents: 97,119 (total).

Frequency of response: Per Federal Application.

Total estimated burden: 1,067,000 hours (per year). Burden is defined at 5 CFR 1320.03(b).

Total estimated cost: $64 million (per year), includes $8 million annualized capital or operation & maintenance costs.

Changes in the Estimates: There is an increase of 739,000 hours in the total estimated respondent burden compared with the ICR currently approved by OMB. There is an increase in the total estimated respondent burden, number of respondents, and number of responses compared with the ICR currently approved by OMB due to refinements in how the estimates are calculated. See the Supporting Statement in the docket for more information on the changes in estimates.

Director, Regulatory Support Division.
