

System—including requirements governing excavation, repair or mitigation, and imposition of interim pressure restrictions for various features, such as dents, corrosion and cracks, that are detected through In-Line Inspections (“ILI”) of such pipelines.

The proposed Fifth Modification of Consent Decree (“Modification”) revises several different provisions of the Consent Decree. A major focus of the proposed Modification is to clarify and revise requirements applicable to one specific type of feature detected on Lakehead System pipelines—dent features that intersect or interact with corrosion features (“dent/corrosion features”). The Modification clarifies that Enbridge must identify all dent features, regardless of the dent depth, and determine whether detected dent features intersect with corrosion features. The Modification establishes requirements for evaluation of dent/corrosion features applying new analytical techniques that would be used to determine whether such features require excavation, repair or mitigation, or interim pressure restrictions. In addition to requiring use of the new methodologies going forward, the Modification includes requirements for re-examining certain previously collected ILI data to identify shallow dent features that Enbridge had not evaluated in the period prior to March 31, 2019, as well as requirements to apply the new analytical methodologies to any additional dent/corrosion features identified based on the re-examination of old data.

In addition to revisions that support new requirements governing the evaluation of dent/corrosion features, the proposed Modification revises the definition of Established Maximum Operating Pressure (“MOP”) to incorporate revised MOP values for Enbridge’s Line 61. The revised MOP values reflect corrected information on pipe wall thickness obtained during a data quality review of Enbridge’s pipeline information. The proposed Modification also revises and clarifies provisions of the Consent Decree relating to Priority Feature notifications. In the proposed revision of Appendix A, features referred to as “ovalities” would be subject to a separate Priority Feature notification criterion from the criterion applicable to other geometric features. Finally, the proposed Modification would revise Table 4 of the Consent Decree to clarify that a dig selection criterion applicable to dents on portions of Line 61 is intended to apply only to dents with depths greater than a specified depth.
