Paragraph 4 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

4a. Stresses that Member States should be able to apply border procedures at internal borders in order to protect public safety or ensure the internal security of the Member State in question, specifically whenever there is a significant influx of illegal migrants that places the EU's external borders under pressure; emphasises, furthermore, that it remains the Member States' sovereign right to determine whether or not to allow migrants into their territory, and stresses that Member States have the right to reintroduce internal border controls when necessary;

Paragraph 16 a (new)

Motion for a resolution

Amendment

16a. Considers that NGOs should not form a part of any ‘independent monitoring mechanism’, since such NGOs are by definition not independent and often exacerbate the problem of illegal migration; stresses that Member States do not need a watchdog to verify the quality and the outcome of the decision-making process for asylum and/or border procedures; stresses that Member States cannot be obliged to grant unfettered access to any organisation for monitoring purposes;
